Council Receives Proposals To Lease Generating Plant

The Elba City Council met Monday night with Councilmen Cleo Hawkins and Ray Trammell absent. The meeting lasted about fifty minutes, but over twenty minutes of that was used discussing the budget status for the past eleven months.

Police Chief Ray Norris reported fines and court costs of $649.50 in District Court with a net to the City of Elba of $3886.80. When asked by council members just how this compared with the net under the old city judge system, Norris said he wasn't sure on exact amounts but would furnish this at the next meeting.

Councilman John W. Sharpless noted that police didn't give tickets for the purpose of raising money but admitted that the amount being taken in should be put to use for the betterment of Elba. He said he felt Elba would be more comfortable "with our own judge in city court" (rather than in district court).

Mayor Bob English agreed with Sharpless, and Councilman Sonny Loman suggested the mayor look into the possibility of going back to the city court system.

City Engineer Jim Williams was not present and English reported that city crews were busy cleaning up downtown prior to the homecoming parade Friday.

English told councilmen of a proposal by Lotus Hamm to donate about seven acres of land to the city in exchange for a road right-of-way. The property is behind the Legion Field recreation complex. Council members asked English to carefully look over the land in the proposed swap and report back to the council with a recommendation.

Also, two proposals to buy or lease the Pea River power dam were presented to the council. English suggested each party be asked to come to Elba and make a presentation for the council to consider. The council members agreed but suggested it be made clear no decision was being made on the proposals until it had been considered fully.

Council members were told that Coffee County was going to increase the charge for dumping garbage at the county landfill. English noted that Elba was already spending more of garbage than it was taking in and this additional 25 cents per household would add $5,000 to this cost. He also said it was not economically feasible for Elba to operate a landfill.

Councilman Sharpless proposed the city arrive at the actual cost of garbage pickup and let the garbage users pay this amount. "... it must be passed on to the customer."

English told the council members present that the local airport would be closed during the first two weeks of October for the previously approved runway repair. He also went over details in the budget comparison and told councilmen "we should end the year in pretty good shape."

The council approved a proposal to increase the appropriation to Cross Trails Regional Library by $109 a month providing arrangements can be made to keep the facility open two evenings a week.

After Last Year's Failure Record Cash Expected For Crop

By CTNDI MADDOX

Coffee County peanut farmers are currently engrossed in the busiest period of their crop year—plowing, picking, and hauling to market the state's top ranking agricultural product.

Local agricultural specialists have already predicted this to be an average year for peanuts in Alabama. But compared to last year's disastrous crop, just the sight of plump, healthy peanuts will make the farmers as happy as a record-breaking yield would.

Last summer's heat wave almost totally destroyed Alabama's peanut crop, as well as bankrupting farming operations in Coffee County and throughout much of the country.

But, if the weather continues to cooperate and prices remain stable, many of the farmers who experienced severe losses last year should be able to partially recover with this year's crop.

According to Tom Casaday, local county agent with the Alabama Cooperative Extension Service, the 1981 crop in Coffee County will probably be 10 percent under the record crop of 1979, when farmers averaged 2,760 pounds per acre of peanuts.

While the crop yield is not expected to hit record proportions, the cash yield will establish a county record, according to Casaday.

He estimated the gross income value of this year's crop to be approximately $21 million. The average value is $16-$17 million. Last year's dismal crop yielded only about $6.5 million.

The higher income is a result of an increase in the number of acres planted and the prices being paid for the peanuts.

Casaday said 1,500 additional acres were planted this year for a total of approximately 32,000 acres. The Coffee County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee (ASC) approved a seven percent increase in the peanut allotment.

Higher prices paid by area buyers for the 1981 crop, coupled with the increased acreage, should lead to about a 20 percent increase in gross income.

Robert English, chairman of the ASC committee, announced earlier this week that price support levels for this crop are basically the same as the 1980 rates.

Farmers are receiving an average support of $451.69 per ton for Virginia and Valencia (southwest) types; $459.09 for Runner; and $437.89 for

Electric Co-op Studies $42 Million Industry To Produce Ethanol

The Alabama Electric Co-op announced Monday in a press conference that a $42 million plant was being considered for construction at the McWilliams power plant near Gantt, in Covington County. The facility would produce ethanol from farm grain produced on area farms.

The magnitude of the facility would be such as would produce 20 million gallons of 200-proof ethanol annually. It would require the total production of 80,000 acres of corn if the average yield was 100 bushels an acre (twice current averages in Alabama).

AEC General Manager Charles Loman explained that leftover steam from the electric generating plant at the McWilliams plant could be used to distill the grain and produce the ethanol which could in turn be mixed with gasoline to produce gasoline or otherwise used to drive engines.

The sale (or use) of the steam by the ethanol plant will lower the cost of generating electricity at the McWilliams plant from 7.5 cents per kwh to about 2.5 cents per kwh, said Loman. It would also increase the annual use of the plant from an average of 1,000 hours now to over 8,000 hours while creating steam for the ethanol plant.

While the project was announced Monday, Co-op officials stressed it was still a proposal that had not been given a firm go-ahead. However, an "overall project plan" released at the press conference showed a timetable of plant startup in February of 1985.

Brainstorms

BY: FERRIN COX

One day recently ye ole editor ran into Mrs. Curtis Wilkins in a local grocery store. Since we had not seen her in several weeks, nor had her harass us about her retirement and her sympathy for us poor old working folks, we naturally had to find out why the absence. Well we got a report on her recent travels around the U.S. and Canada. A point that stood out was our mental picture of this retired school teacher in Canada, riding a snowmobile across a glacier. She said it was a fun trip . . . we wouldn't know, 'cause we were at work.

Well, the Coffee County commissioners continue to keep us in suspense as to what "great wisdom" they will come out with next. This week it is the decision to stop garbage pickup in the rural areas. Now don't go down and ask how a particular commissioner voted, because it isn't on the minutes yet. We were told it "was discussed" and would be voted on Monday; but they wanted to give the people plenty of time. They aren't sure yet how much they will charge if you carry your own garbage to the dump, or what hours it will be open, etc.; but they KNOW they will stop the pickup on October 1. We like the members of our county commission personally, but put them together making decisions and this editor can only shake his head and hope that one day they will do something correctly . . . even a stopped clock is right twice a day!

Elkin Williamson won a Montgomery Advertiser contest a couple of weeks ago and was interviewed by one of their sports writers. Elkin is a good talker and showed it in that interview. The thing we liked most about the report of the interview was that Elkin grasped the opportunity to promote Elba and the people of Elba. He touted a couple of Elba youths playing football at the University of Alabama and it never hurts to let folks know about our community and the talent it produces. We wish 5,000 people would go out each day and say just one nice thing about Elba and Coffee County. We would be amazed with the results.

President Reagan was elected on a promise to stop our runaway federal spending, but the minute he started, the howling got louder. We have not yet joined the howlers, maybe because the president has not yet started "goring the ox" of those who are working for a living and willing to continue this way as long as we can afford to do so. There is no way the government can cut spending without cutting some of the free handouts that have become so much a part of government since the days of Roosevelt. However, if the 200 million-plus at home will send a message to Washington to counter the 250,000 protestors most any special interest group can muster, we will survive.

We were impressed Monday with the plans for an ethanol plant proposed for the Alabama Electric Co-op facility near Andalusia. The direct results were pointed out easily, but the indirect results (advantages) will be far greater and will have a strong impact on Coffee County and the people here who farm or need jobs. We hope the project is completed.

Reunion set at Arwood

Former classmates and teachers of Arwood School and their families, will have their annual reunion at the Farm Center in New Brockton Saturday, Oct. 3.

Arwood was a country school located mid-way between U.S. 84 and the Pea River on the old Weik's Bridge Road. It was established about 1871 and served as an educational, cultural and religious center for this community until the consolidation of schools of this area in 1914. School land was donated by George and Georgia Arwood.

Mrs. Elma Martin recalled that life at Arwood School was very simple. Most children had only two changes of school clothes. They wore one while their mother washed the other.

The box supper was remembered as one of the big social events of the school. The girls would prepare fancy box lunches and the boys would bid on their boxes. One lady recalled that way back then one of her boxes brought $13, which seemed like a fortune to her. The highest bidder on each box shared the food with the girl who had prepared it.

The Arwood Alumni and their friends made contributions this year and a historical marker was erected near the old school site.

CHEERING THEMSELVES TO A VICTORY—People often think that all cheerleaders have to do is look good in their uniforms and learn their cheers. What these people need to do is see the hard work that goes into being a cheerleader. This summer the Elba High cheerleaders put in more than their share of hard work and they came out victorious. During July they traveled to Auburn University where they attended a cheerleader clinic. It was at this clinic that all of the practices and all the hard work of the previous weeks were put to good use. Every night, Elba's cheerleaders competed against girls from different schools all over the state. These competitions sent the squad from Elba home with an assortment of ribbons. Aside from all the ribbons that were brought home, a grand trophy awarded to the best overall cheerleaders to know that they have won not only the support and favor of the football fans, but also the respect of judges. The cheerleaders, from left are: Tami Mallory, Millie Pearce, Wendy Bowers, Pam Williams, Beverly Daniels, Donna Haley, Gina Donaldson, and Cressandra Williams. —By NANCY LINSEY.

Mindbenders
The following riddles were written by students in Mrs. Judith Butt's English literature class. Don't let them bend your mind! You will find the answers below.

I'm a modern day warrior by trade,
Seen in public gatherings which men have made.
I stand strong on four legs and demand money to fight.
When paid, I shout my battle cry for all to hear.
I want and I want my opponent until his defeat is near.
He curses me and throws himself into a fit of rage.
He kicks me and hits me until I'm worn with age.
When he is through with me and the battle is done,
I let all hear my laugh which tells I have won!

By KEN KNIGHT

I am not a bird,
Yet I can fly with precision.
I have no engine,
Yet I am a machine.
I can be held in the hand,
Yet my sting may bring death.
I may be very small,
Yet I may be very large.
I may be very helpful at times,
Yet when my prey is not sighted,
I am useless.
What am I?

By MARK BOWERS

Although I am small and hard as a brick,
I'm the unique companion of a special stick.
I sometimes get to roll, but usually I fly.
I am often projected way into the sky.
I sometimes go astray, and often I will hide,
And this marks the end of my free ride.
I sometimes get scolded and ordered to go,
I am frequently cursed and told to stop or "whoa!"
I am a part of a thinking man's game.
I ran John broke, but I brought Jack fame.

Science Club News

By MELISSA NORMAN
Opportunities—That is what the Elba High School Science Club offers. Members of the Science Club receive a chance to prepare for college and careers, to set and reach goals, to attain both knowledge and pride and to simply enrich their lives.

The Science Club's activities can help students prepare for careers in science, such as health services, agriculture, wildlife conservation, medicine, and research. The club can also aid students who plan other types of careers, such as those in mathematics, engineering, and humanities.

In exchange for these opportunities, members of the Science Club must enroll in science classes, maintain at least a 'B' average, and must complete a project that may be entered in a regional competition. Preparations for the Science Club began in the spring of the 1980-81 school year, with visits from the Opp Science Club and from Johnny Moody of the University of Alabama at Birmingham. A donation was also made for materials for the Science Club's projects. Both the principal and teachers offered their support by allowing students to attend Science Club meetings during school last spring.

During this school year, the Science Club hopes to encourage students to attain scientific knowledge, and to allow them a chance to receive scholarships through their participation in competitions. The club also plans to purchase equipment for scientific studies.

A representative from the Red Cross discussed our responsibilities of working with the blood drive to be held September 30. Plans were also discussed for the upcoming movie to be presented as a fund-raiser, and homecoming activities. The meeting was then adjourned until next month.

ASVAB Test Given at Elba High

BY: KIM WHITMAN
Uncle Sam wants you - or so it seemed on Thursday, September 17, when a representative of the Department of Defense came to Elba High School to administer the Armed Service Vocational Aptitude Battery (ASVAB) to approximately 220 junior and senior class students.

The general purpose of the test is to provide a set of measures of abstract and symbolic relationships. Symbolic representation is only one method used for communication; however, this is one which plays an important part in everyday life.

In addition, ASVAB-S was developed to serve as an instrument for counseling high school students about career choices, provide needed military service qualification data, and make job classification discussions about military enlistment. Information about the students who have taken the test will be kept on a computer tape and on microfilm records for two years.

The ASVAB is divided into 12 separate sections, including General Information, Numerical Operations, Attention to Detail, Word Knowledge, Arithmetic Reasoning, Space Perception, Mathematics Knowledge, Electronic Information, Mechanical Comprehension, General Science, Shop Information and Automotive Information.

Results of the testing will be returned in approximately two weeks, and students may find out how well they did by contacting Mr. Sharpless.

Yearbook staff starts work on Rebel 82

The published edition of Rebel 82 will not appear until next spring, however, the staff cannot wait until then to begin work.

Rebel 82 was actually "born" last spring with an ad campaign and the election of an editor and business manager. The next job on the agenda was to prepare the section of the book containing color ads. These had to reach Paragon Press no later than July 3. After this came the preparation and production of a football program for each home game.

A schedule for taking annual pictures was the next order of business. Complications arise when picture dates are not scheduled far enough in advance to meet copy deadlines.

Other activities of the annual staff have to fit into the school calendar. The Rebel Beauty Pageant will be held on November 3. This calls for advance preparation in order to have materials on hand with which to decorate.

Rebel 82 and the Rebel News are prepared in journalism class. This requires an intense study of, first, newspaper journalism, then yearbook journalism. The first three weeks of school have been spent studying newspaper journalism so that we could have the first newspaper. When the class has established a routine in preparing the newspaper, yearbook journalism will begin. All this will take place before October 15.

Things do not then slow down. In fact the pace will not be reduced until the final copy deadline for the yearbook is met on February 2.

During Off-season Attitude pleases coach

By DONNA FOLEY
"I am very pleased that the players are willing to make physical and mental sacrifices in order to get ready for the upcoming season. It takes a lot of motivation to run a couple of miles in 95 degree weather, but the boys are willing to do it and that is what it takes to win."

These are the words of head basketball coach Mike Lindsey when asked about the off-season training program for the basketball players.

The requirements are a daily two-mile run and a weight lifting program. The workout is to insure that the team is in excellent physical condition at the beginning of formal practice, to improve jumping ability and overall muscle tone. It also includes weight reduction on a few overweight players.

School receives summer facelift
By ROBBIN DAY
Go on after the regular nine month session of school? Students at Zion will disagree with those who disagree. They returned the last week in August to find a freshly painted, clean, and cheerful building.

The Coffee County Board of Education provided a facelift for the school that looks great. New tiles were put down in the hall and each classroom floor has been cleaned and given a coat of polyurethane.

Each student at ZC is challenged to do his or her part to see that the building remains as clean and attractive as it is now.

A good strainer for lumpy paint is an old nylon stocking.

The third room is for running the clock and announcing the game. The concession stand consists of three storage rooms and a large area for selling food and drinks. Construction began last spring and continued through the summer. It was completed for the first home game.

ZION CHAPEL FBLA OFFICERS—Four Zion Chapel students have been chosen to serve as officers in the Coffee County Vocational Center Chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) Club. Cindy Baker, a senior at Zion Chapel, was elected as president by students from Zion, New Brockton and Kinston. Jeff Amlog, also a Zion Chapel senior, was chosen parliamentarian for the 1981-82 year. Debra Thrasher, a Z.C. junior, was elected as one of three area vice-presidents. A third Zion senior, Lori Mehaffey, was chosen as the club historian. Pat Purvis from New Brockton is the FBLA treasurer. All the officers will attend the State Leadership conference to be held in Birmingham on November 6-7. Z.C. vo-ed department slated for review
By LAURI DOSTER
Zion Chapel High School is now participating in a vocational education review for the purpose of planning, evaluation, and development of curriculum. The program is designed to update student services, evaluate program management and to enhance school and community interaction.

The review will consist of four parts. Part 1 will last from now until November 2 and consist of a review by department specialists. Part 2 will be an on-site review which will be held November 17, 18, and 19. This will be a team review. The specialists will interview teachers, students, graduates of the program and representatives from the community. They will be observing individual departments.

After the interviews are completed, Zion Chapel's vocational department will be informed whether or not they comply with state regulations. During Part 3 the teams will look at the programs and make suggestions about what can be done to improve each department.

Part 4 will consist of technical assistance. During this part, actual specialists from the state department will be present at the school to help work out particular problems. There will also be a progress monitor which will occur six months after the review to make sure the plans are progressing. The program is designed to improve the school curriculum.

Short-order line added for lunchroom variety
By ALISON MADDOX
Many short-order lines. Denby Lowrey, head of the lunchroom, said, "We can reach more of the students who eat junk food. We can now offer them a well-balanced meal."

The new line is an experimental project. The lunchroom serving just the basic food items. Some of the things being served are hot dogs, hamburgers, salads, french fries, turkey and ham sandwiches, fried chicken, and tea.

A different flavoring for hot tea: instead of sugar, add a couple of lemon drops or hard mint candies. They melt quickly and keep the tea tasting clean and brisk.

BLEED THROUGH

Look in the Library

By NITA LACKEY

If you enjoy reading, need to do research, or just want to look through a magazine, the Elba Public Library is the place for you.

According to Mrs. Mary Dowling, head librarian, the number of books is ever-increasing-new books are received each week.

Also, if someone has a need for a book not in the Elba library, Mrs. Dowling can arrange to get the book from another library. She must have a few days' advance notice to get it, however.

A periodical room holds as many as 18 different magazine names, some dating back to the 1930s. Such magazines as "National Geographic," "Southern Living," "Newsweek," "Time," "Field," "Stream," "Good Housekeeping," and "Better Homes and Gardens" can be found there.

The library also has large print books for people who are unable or don't like to read small print. Books may be checked out for two weeks at a time. A book drop is available for returning books after hours.

was first organized in 1932. The Elba Study Club held bazaar, rummage sales and silver teas to raise money for the initial purchase of books. Now book purchases are funded by the city, state and federal governments.

Library hours are: Monday-Friday, 10-12 o'clock, and Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, 1-4:30. The staff includes Mrs. Mary Dowling, head librarian, Mrs. Teresa Gummels, and Otto Luenig, author of "Poisonous," by Phyllis Whitney; "The Mask of the Enchantress," by Victoria Holt; "Answer As a Man," by Taylor Caldwell; "Cosmos," by Carl Sagan; "Palomino," by Danielle Steel; "The Odyssey of an American Composer," by Otto Luenig; and "The American Heiress," by Dorothy Eden. Another recent addition is "Christmas with Southern Living," by Southern Living Magazine.

The following new books were received by the library the week of Sept. 14-18:

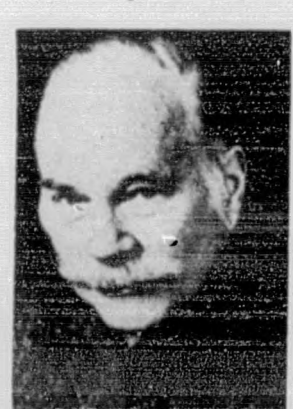

"The Odyssey of an American Composer," by Otto Luenig, author of "The Odyssey of an American Composer," is scheduled for two weeks at a time. A book drop is available for returning books after hours.

PTK HONOR SCHOLARSHIP—Karla Crumpler, right, president of the Tau Mu Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa honor society at Enterprise State Junior College awards the PTK 1981-82 scholarship to Marica Richburg of Elba. The scholarship covers full tuition for three quarters. Mrs. Richburg, a 1981 graduate of Elba High School, is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. David Richburg.

Composer to be in Enterprise

Otto Luenig, a world-renowned composer, conductor, performer, teacher, pianist in electronic music, and professor emeritus of music at Columbia University, will present a music lecture and recital at 7:30 p.m. at Enterprise State Junior College Thursday, Oct. 8.

The program, sponsored by the ESJC Lyceum Committee and the Coffee County Arts Alliance, will include electronic presentations by Luenig and a number of his compositions performed by Robbie James, Enterprise pianist, and David Cowley, cellist from the University of Alabama.

Born in Milwaukee in 1900, Luenig grew up in the rich culture of German immigrants. By the time he was four years old he could sing 50 songs and began piano practice. He wrote his first piece of music at age five.

In 1912 the family moved to Munich where Luenig studied flute at the Royal Academy. They moved to Zurich when World War I began and he studied with Ferruccio Busoni and played in the Tonhalle Orchestra under such conductors as Richard Strauss. He also acted in James Joyce's theatre group.

Back in America in the twenties, he worked as a pit musician in a Chicago movie theatre, played vaudeville piano, and organized the American Grand Company. His reputation earned him a position at Eastman School of Music and from there he filled teaching positions at the University of Arizona, Bennington College, and Columbia University.

As a composer of "E. Vangelin" and as conductor of the world premieres of Gian Carlo Menotti's "The Medium" and Virgil Thomson and Gertrude Stein's "The Mother of Us All," he has been a vital force in American music for more than 60 years and fostered the growth of American opera.

Luenig is most celebrated for his early attempts to wed traditional instruments and electronically-induced synthetic sounds. He composed works like "Gargoyles," a combination of violin and synthesizer, and "In the Beginning," brought electronic music to ballet.

Calendar of Events
Free Upon Request

Want to know the details of the Peanut Festival in Dothan? Or would you like to know when the next flea market will be held? Odds are you can find that information in the quarterly Alabama Calendar of Events published by the Alabama Bureau of Publicity and Information.

Off to the press, the calendar for October through December is now available at Alabama Welcome Centers and through the Bureau of Publicity and Information, Caroline Cavanaugh, Bureau director, said.

The calendar is one of the Bureau's most popular publications. "Mrs. Cavanaugh said. The 56-page booklet is free on request."

"To our knowledge, this is the only publication in Alabama with travel-related events and information about cultural and recreational activities statewide," she said. More than 300 events are listed for October through December.

Sara Redding, editor of the publication, said groups wishing to include special activities in the booklet should contact her for a form to aid in providing necessary information. Each entry includes the name of the event and if admission is charged, accompanied by a brief description of the event and the name of a contact person.

Mrs. Redding said she is now accepting information for the January through March, 1982 edition of the calendar. Deadline for entries is Oct. 2. She may be contacted at 832-5510 in Montgomery or toll-free at 1-800-392-8066. Or write the Bureau at 532 S. Perry St., Montgomery, 36130.

The Bureau also publishes "Alabama the Beautiful, 52 Weeks a Year," a guide to many Alabama attractions, and distributes state maps and park brochures, all available on request at the Bureau and at Alabama Welcome Centers.

MR. ALCURI, MISS SPURLOCK

Around The Town

By NELLIE MARTIN

New York were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Johnson, Richard and Allen. Joining them from Montgomery were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Henderson, Lurline and Lillian.

Many other relatives from this area were right in there, too, and what a birthday! It was as colorful and as full of cheer as a bowl of cherries. A friend as warm-hearted as Mr. Williams never shall starve to death for love, appreciation, kindness or thoughtfulness -- he has been dedicated to his family in Birmingham, and to Roger and Mary's in Jacksonville, Florida.

Frazier holds a most responsible position with Philip-Myers Tobacco Company in Turkey, Howland, his home office will be in Richmond, Virginia, and he will be in charge of the company's business in the South.

Mr. and Mrs. Nardi Arquilla of Chicago, Illinois, enjoyed a pleasant visit with relatives and friends in this area. The entire personnel staff of the former Carol Stephenson, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J.M. Kimmy, club president, presided. Nellie B. Martin gave the invocation.

Long tables were crowded with pots, pans, bowls, trays, baskets and other serving dishes, containing most any desired food. Refreshing iced tea completed this September feast.

Mr. Jake Bonneau, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Bonneau, executive director of South Central Alabama Mental Health Association in Andalusia.

The Aquilla's were the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Foy Spurlin, however, they were graciously entertained by former friends and relatives. Hot and cold refreshments were served.

There are four major centers in the counties of this district - Coffee, Covington, Butler and Crenshaw. However, the Mental Health Association, Act of 1981 increased former services and added larger and better-equipped treatment centers.

Mr. Silver was a capable and forceful speaker, and his lecture was most informative and interesting to the group.

The original scrapbook of the A.A.R.P. was displayed, and it furnished many articles of interest pertaining to the organization of Elba's chapter. The charter members and officers were recognized. Special thoughts of thanksgiving and love were expressed in memory of Mrs. Lina Del Ringo, whose death on Monday of last week touched the members. Other deceased charter members were remembered by Mrs. Georgia Mathes, plus 18 members.

Dr. Kimmy expressed the club's congratulations and expressions of pleasure to Jake Bonneau in being selected as president of the Mental Health Board. He also thanked each one that helped to make the dinner meeting a success.

Albert Reeves dismissed the group with a prayer of gratitude to the founders who so willingly devoted their time and talent in helping this organization continue to achieve, with dignity and purpose.

Mrs. Mary Alice Hooks joined other family members in helping to celebrate her mother's (Mrs. Ardis Williams) 85th birthday. From Bronx,

On the Rural Route

F. O. Fields has been known as "Fred" for 86 years. Now, it looks like neighbors will be calling him "Jack."

Mr. Fields, you see, has grown a beardside and even make "Jack" swell with pride. It reaches 41 feet toward the clouds, and it's still growing! "I suspect he might reach 55 or 60 feet before frost," beams Mr. Fields.

Growing the butter bean vine was no accident. It was a challenge. It was cleverly planned to see how tall it would grow. Why? "You know folks are all the time doing something crazy!" he explained.

Last year, he had one growing 34 feet up a tree so he decided to encourage it this year and here is what he did.

He dug a hole four feet in diameter, waist deep last April. In that, he placed four bales of hay, a little dirt and four pounds of 15-15-15 commercial fertilizer of which the hay settled, he added another bale. "I don't know any fertilizer that's better than hay," he said. "A 45-degree pole was chained at a 45-degree angle in a tree some 25 feet from the ground. A rope was run around a concrete block and up to the top of this pole, and then tied to a stake in the ground. The bean ran up the rope and Fields was able to let the vine down by using the pulley when it was time to pick the beans. First picking yielded 333 pods.

He doesn't let the neighbors know the secret of letting the vine down to the ground before picking. He tells them, "I'll give you the beans if you will pick them all the way to the top." But he chooses to himself. "No ladder will reach that high" and they might tumble into the Tombigbee River which flows just a few yards from where the stalk grows.

Soybean Bill Passed

The United States Senate has adopted Alabama Senator Howell Heflin's bill to establish a Soybean Research Institute, thus launching an all-out national effort to increase soybean production and eradicate the protein-rich crop's most devastating enemy, the cyst nematode.

"The soybean is the number one cash crop in Alabama and in the nation," Heflin said during the Senate floor debate on the proposal. "Yet soybean production has not significantly increased since 1950."

Heflin blamed the lack of acre yield increases on insufficient research of production problems, particularly the problem of the cyst nematode, a parasite that causes more than $300 million in soybean crop damage each year.

The Soybean Research Institute will bring together scientists, agricultural experts and other concerned groups to coordinate research into ways to solve soybean production and marketing problems which now face consumers and soybean producers.

"The soybean has become the United States' leading agricultural commodity, producing a revenue of $14 billion annually," Heflin said. Further, soybean exports bring in more revenue than any other single U.S. crop—$9 billion last year.

The soybean first became an important crop in Alabama in the mid-1960s. At that time, 285,000 acres were planted in the state. Now Alabama farmers grow soybeans on more than 2.3 million acres, according to Heflin.

However, soybean per acre yield has remained stable at approximately 25 bushels per acre despite dramatic per acre yield increases in virtually all other crops.

All Around Coffee County

TOM CASADAY

PEANUT PROGRAM—President Roosevelt once said, "When you get to the end of your rope, tie a knot and hang on." This reminds me of the condition that a lot of Coffee County farmers have gotten into in recent years. A lot of peanut producers have had to tie their three knots last year, and the rope is getting shorter.

We will know of more about the proposed peanut program and how it will affect individual Coffee County farmers in a few weeks. I am sure the House and Senate Conference Committees will go over it carefully.

What comes out may be a mixture of both defeat and victory -- defeat from the standpoint of losing allotments but victory from the standpoint of holding in place some very desirable features. The $596 per ton for quota poundage peanuts with an escalator depending on the cost of production is very helpful. The program ought to be set in place for 1982 in less than 30 days. We will eventually get the whole picture.

DIABETIC SEMINAR—Don't forget the Diabetic

Seminar starting September 28, at 7:00 p.m. at the Extension office in New Brockton.

Carla Carmichael, from Coffee General Hospital, will be the first program participant. If you are diabetic or have family members or just simply want to learn more about diabetes, be sure to attend this meeting.

Home Agent Sara Hutchinson says she has had an excellent response from the people. The main problem for you, attend to your own good and your family's welfare.

EXTRA PROFITS—Dan Presley sent a letter this week to chief producers in the county and asked, "How would you like to add 100 or even 200 pounds to your calf weaning weights?" Presley also pointed out that some producers in the county are already doing this by using cross-breeding techniques.

Dr. Richard Deese, animal scientist from Auburn, will be here at the Farm Center on Wednesday, Sept. 23, at 10:00 a.m. Deese will discuss the best crosses to use on first crossed heifers.

"If you're looking for a good buy on car insurance and great service, too—see me."

TOMATOES

Home gardeners have grown some excellent tomatoes this season. However, many gardeners have experienced diseases of different kinds, especially fusarium wilt, bacterial wilt and southern blight.

How do you tell which one of these diseases condition your plants have? If plants aren't yellowing but have a scalded or wilted appearance, the problem is bacterial wilt or southern blight. If you see cotton-like growth on the plant at the soil line, the tomatoes are infected with southern blight. This white growth has small mustard-seed like bodies in it. If there is no white growth, it is probably bacterial wilt.

Clip this out, keep and we will give control recommendations for your particular problem.

SOIL TEST

September and October are the two best months in the year to get soil test samples in to the laboratory. Coffee County is one of the leading counties in soil testing. It is a basic practice which is helping to improve yields of corn, crops, gardens, lawns and pastures.

We don't recommend putting out lime just for the sake of liming. We much prefer that each farmer and homeowner collect and send a sample to the laboratory to find out exactly how much is needed, if any.

I want to urge every farmer, homeowner and gardener to take advantage of the excellent laboratory facilities at Auburn. If you follow their time and fertilizer recommendations, everything that you grow will do better. I guarantee it.

Amendment For Meat Is Passed

An amendment recently passed will prohibit horse meat and kangaroo meat from being sold to unsuspecting American consumers. The amendment was sponsored by Alabama Senator Howell Heflin and Montana Senator John Melcher.

The Melcher-Heflin amendment, adopted by the Senate as an amendment to the farm bill, requires that all meat imported to the United States meet the same rigid health standards imposed on American-produced meat.

"Recent incidents involving horse meat and kangaroo meat being imported into this country and being sold to unsuspecting American consumers as beef proved that we must tighten up inspection standards on imported meat," Heflin said.

The amendment requires that all meat and meat products imported to the United States be subject to the inspection, sanitary, quality, species verification and residue standards applied to American-produced meat products.

Adequate supplies of beef, dry peas, lentils, potatoes, and fresh fruits such as peaches, plums, nectarines, and apples should be available. Canned, frozen and chilled citrus juices, canned non-citrus fruits and frozen snap beans should also be available in adequate amounts.

SEWING IDEAS

If you're looking for a new sewing idea, try color splicing. Color splicing is the pairing of two or more color-related fabrics in one garment as borders, panels, decorative accents or trim.

Color splicing works best with simple silhouettes. And, for those with less than perfect figures, color and prints can be manipulated to create an illusion that disguises the problem area.

Work-farm magazines and pattern catalogs for examples of color splicing.

FOOD SUPPLIES

After paying for school clothes and supplies, are you looking for ways to cut expenses? If the answer is yes, buying foods that are lower in price is one way to do this. Check the prices in your stores. Plentiful foods should offer good food buys.

Plentiful foods are pork, broiler-fryers, turkey, eggs, milk, dairy products and dried prunes, rice and dry

If a vinegar-salt solution is used, rinse fruit before canning. Do not leave in vinegar-salt solution longer than 15 to 20 minutes or fruit will absorb flavor.

Outstanding District Supervisor Award Given

A Kinston Community man recently received the Outstanding District Supervisor Award from the Area V Soil and Water Conservation District Supervisors meeting held at Lake Toccoa. The award was presented to Charles Mallory in recognition of outstanding service for over 31 years.

Mallory was originally an official of the Wiregrass Soil Conservation District, which included 5 Southeast Alabama counties. He was the Coffee County representative until 1959 when Coffee County District was formed in his area. He was chairman of the Area V Soil and Water Conservation District Supervisor, and for the outstanding booth his chapter prepared for the Peanut Festival entitled "Save Our Soil."

The Coffee County Soil and Water Conservation District Supervisors compliment both of these men for their outstanding accomplishments and the recognition they have brought to our county.

CORNER

The queen, Lashun Jones, is flanked by 1st runner-up Latelisha Tillis, and 2nd runner-up Dana Kelly.

Thursday night, September 17, at 7 o'clock in the evening in the Elba High School auditorium, was a night that many people in Elba won't forget. It was a night that 20 young ladies from kindergarten to third grade came together in peaceful harmony to present to the viewing audience looks of enchantment. One spectator said there should be a way that all the little ones could win. Tears filled the building as well as happiness that was witnessed by a representative group beyond my personal expectations.

Contestant No. 1 was Lashun Rayborn; 2, Adella L. Russell; 3, Contina Daniels; 4, Komika L. Daniels; 5, Tamiko L. Coleman; 6, Stephanie L. Daniels; 7, Felisa Cole; 8, Keisha Lunsford; 9, Dana Kelly; 10, Priscilla Siler; 11, Marie F. Ellard; 12, Fabrika Tillis; 13, Zena A. Barnes; 14, Tamara J. Rowe; 15, Clarissa N. Daniels; 16, Janelle A. Siler; 17, Regina Kelly; 18, LaTisha L. Tillis; 19, Conzella Williams; 20, Lashun Jones. Even though all these little girls were just as beautiful as could be, only one would be selected, along with the 1st and 2nd runners-up.

Second runner-up was little Miss Dana Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kelly. Dana was just wonderful. First runner-up was LaTisha Tillis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Tillis, and she was just beautiful.

Winner was Lashun Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Jones, and Lashun was just stupendous. Entertainment was provided by the Holy Angels of Elba and the Fantastic Four Plus One, an upcoming dancing group. Mrs. Gladys Yelverton and her staff should be commended for such expertise as they displayed in making the Little Miss Ebony Las Vegas program a great success. Robert L. Jackson, the judges and ushers, thank you for a job well done - and all the sponsors.

The annual Black College Day will be September 29, a day for recognition of black colleges throughout the nation. This is an event of black youths being united in education, and in connection with this event, young blacks can be offered new and unique insights into education.

In Washington, D.C. more than 7000 black students and faculty members from 35 black colleges marched to the nation's capitol, shouting and singing "Save our Black Colleges." and "We love black colleges." The march began on the white house ellipse and ended on the west side of the capitol.

A study by the National Center for Education statistics revealed the nation's 105 traditionally black colleges and universities which 20 years ago enrolled 96 percent of all black college students, now enroll fewer than 20 percent. Yet, these colleges and universities still award some 40 percent of the bachelor's degrees earned by blacks.

Support the college of your choice because a mind is a terrible thing to waste.

Velma Coleman, a citizen of Elba, sponsored an interior show September 10, in her lovely home. After the show ended, guests were served fish, cooked by Robert E. Williams and Allen Shipman.

Surprises filled the air Saturday night, September 12, Mr. and Mrs. John Coleman surprised their daughter, Carmen, at their home, with a birthday party, to celebrate her 16th birthday. She was elated to know so many of her friends turned out for the surprise. After her first set of thrills had gone, she had yet another - her parents presented her with the keys to a 1981 Mercury Lynx! Now, how's that for surprise!

Carmen's hobbies include swimming, dancing, singing and driving around town. She is also a member of the respected gospel group, the Holy Angels.

Jackie Matthews, daughter of Mrs. Mae Bell Matthews, Carver Court, in Opp, is home from a break in studies from one of Georgia's most prestigious colleges - Atlanta College.

Jackie is studying to become a medical assistant. Good luck, Jackie.

Erma Smith, daughter of Mrs. Mozell McCormick, is presently teaching in the Houston County School System. She had previously taught in Elba, and finished college at Troy State.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ellison had in their home recently their beautiful daughters, Brenda and Gwen. Along with them were Brenda's husband and Gwen's fiancé, Russell Cash. Also visiting was his son, Keith, and his lovely wife and baby.

Mertha Horstead, daughter of Mrs. Ethel Horstead of Elba, will be departing for active duty with the Navy today (Thursday, September 24), and is enlisting as a seaman apprentice. She has a choice of 36 jobs; her first choice is air traffic controller, and her second choice is yeoman. Good luck, Mertha, in your new-found career. Mertha will be stationed at Orlando, Florida.

Some September birthdays - Michelle Culver, Roderick Thomas, Carmen Coleman, Tonja Thomas, Leroy Cole, Vernor Bob James, Lonnie C. Wade, Rev. Grayer, Charlotte Robinson.

Willie Mae Wilson, Gwen Rayborn, John Coleman - I hope all of you a speedy recovery from your recent hospital stay.

Joe Paul Daniels, brother of Elba Coleman, is in Elba, visiting his family. Joe Paul is making his home in Lake Wales, Florida.

Jennifer Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Shelby Phillips, is continuing her good work at Ft. Rucker while attending school over there. Good luck, Jennifer.

The second anniversary of the Shady Grove A.M.E. Jr. church was held Sunday, September 20, with various churches participating. Sister Pearl Mae Magwood did a tremendous job of being the Mistress of Ceremony.

Harris Temple C.O.G.I.C. of Elba presented a singing convention at the Temple September 9-12, with the theme of "I will bless the Lord at all times." His praises shall continually be in my mouth." Psalm 34:1. Their convention song was "Praise the Lord, from Whom all Blessings Flow." Wednesday night devotionals were led by Andalusia and Brundidge. Elder Coleman Jones as Master of Ceremonies. Unemployment Declines Alabama's unemployment rate declined from 9.4 percent in July to 9.3 percent in August, according to Franklin H. James, director of the Alabama Dept. of Industrial Relations. Unemployment on the national level exhibited similar improvement, dipping from 7.3 percent to 7.2 percent.

Both the state and the nation showed over-the-year improvement as well. A year ago Alabama's jobless rate was 9.8 percent, and the national estimate was 7.5 percent.

James noted that the number of unemployed workers declined 3,200 from July to August, and was 9,500 less than a year ago. "We expect even further improvement when the September rate is computed," he added. "Many summer jobseekers have returned to school and dropped out of the labor force."

Since Mr. Green had acquired the property in good faith, and had occupied the residence for a period of years while paying all property taxes and assessments, he was able to remove the cloud from the title through a quiet title action in court.

After this, he was able to convey marketable title to the Browns and the transaction was completed.

The time to learn about precautions, such as owner's title insurance that protects against hazards including those a search will not disclose, is before you buy a home. THE PRESSBOX

By Ricky Mulaz Sports Editor

The loss to Opp last week left Elba with a 2-2 record, and for the first time in several years, the Tigers are facing the possibility of a losing season. I'm not predicting a losing season, and I'm definitely not giving up on them - but with the games we've got left, I can see no easy wins and several very tough games. I guess it will come down to "pride" and falls directly on the players. The dictionary defines pride as a sense of one's own worth, and displeasure of what is beneath or unworthy of oneself, or - to put it simply - never being satisfied with giving less than one's all. I guess we'll find out in the weeks to come just how much pride can mean to a team, and how the Elba Tigers will be remembered!

I wasn't satisfied with losing last week, but I did see a few specks of silver lining in the loss to Opp. Our offense moved the ball better than it had all season, and if it hadn't stopped itself with two interceptions and two fumbles, it might have scored enough points to win. The offense is still performing many mistakes, but I saw a ray of hope in their performance and think they might just be ready to put it all together. A spark on offense last week was the running of Michael Scott, a transfer student from Valdosta, Georgia, who rushed for 122 yards and two touchdowns. One game doesn't make a season, but if Scott can repeat the performance in games to come, he could be a vital part of our team and could re-write the record book. Time will tell.

The passing attack wasn't exactly spectacular, although there was some definite improvement. Mike Amison seemed to be more confident and his receivers made some good catches. Also, the line blocked better than in recent weeks - perhaps a sign of gaining experience. Yep, even though we didn't score but two touchdowns, I still think our offense grew up a little bit and gained confidence in itself.

Over on defense, we didn't even slow Opp down as they ran up and down the field, stopping occasionally when they fumbled. The defensive line got blown away and Opp's backs looked like they were in a track meet. There weren't any bright spots on defense, and if we hope to win many more games, we'll have to tighten our chin straps and get after folks. I know we've got some players who love to hit, and I'm hoping they will show it this week, because time is running out.

A quick trip around the county reveals that two teams posted wins last week - New Brockton and Enterprise. New Brockton broke a two-game losing streak by edging Sanson 10-6, while 4A bully Enterprise crushed Lee 31-6 to remain unbeaten. Zien Chapel continued to have offensive problems, as they were shut out by Long 28-0. The Rebel defense turned in another gutsy effort, but two blocked punts gave Long some easy points, a 0-13 couldn't come back for the victory.

Kinston took it on the chin from Houston Academy, but the Bulldogs have done a complete 360 degree turnaround since early in the year, and are as good as anyone in their Area. With a little luck, the Dogs could make it to state - believe it or not!

In other games of interest to you folks not living in the area, the action went something like this:

Troy got back on the winning track with a 20-6 decision over Ashford, making the Trojans the early favorite to claim the Area crown.

Florida finally scored, but it wasn't enough, as they were upset by Goshen 16-6. The Wildcats may not win more than one or two games if they don't get going.

Greenville pulled into a lead early in the game and toyed with Lufkin before winning 34-14. The Tigers are tough - ain't no doubt!

OPP RUNS PAST TIGERS 28-13

Heading for Paydirt... is Tiger running back Michael Scott (25) as he scores to pull Elba within 28-13. Scott gained 122 yards in 12 carries to lead the Elba offense.

Elba defensive-end Terry Spicer (64) puts a heavy rush on Opp quarterback Ed Spurlin, causing an incomplete pass.

Tiger defensive-tackle Brett Scarborough (66) stops an Opp runner for a short gain, with help from a teammate.

The Elba defense simply couldn't stop the powerful 1-2 punch of Opp's Robert Brannon and Tim Jessie last Friday night in their annual battle, and got knocked out by the Bobcats 28-13 in Opp.

The win upped Opp's record to 2-1 (1-1 in Area play), while the loss dropped Elba's slate to 2-2 (1-1 in Area play).

The Bobcats won the toss and elected to receive, but held the ball for only three plays before losing a fumble to Elba's Kevin Kelley. A penalty set the Tigers back and forced an Elba punt, which was bobbled by the Opp returner and pounced on by Elba lineman Brett Scarborough on the Bobcat 13-yard line. Two short runs by Mark Henderson left Elba with a 3rd down at the 10, but Mike Amison took the snap and pitched back to Michael Scott, a freshman who was playing in his first game, and the speedy half-back raced around the right side into the endzone for a touchdown. Dwayne Hooks' extra point split the upgates, giving Elba a 7-0 lead with 6:01 left in the opening stanza.

Opp put the ball in play on the 36-yard line on their next possession and this time marched 64 yards in 10 running plays to tie the score at 7-7. Robert Brannon and Tim Jessie took turns battering the Elba defense, with Jessie notching the score on a three-yard scamper. Robert Dowling added the p.a.t., pulling Opp into a 7-7 tie with 5:54 left in the first quarter of play.

The Tigers fumbled the ensuing kick, putting the ball in play on the 18-yard line, and began a drive that would eat up almost seven minutes of the clock and move to within the shadows of the Opp goal post. An 18-yard pass from Amison to Ken Velverton got the drive started, while three Opp penalties moved Elba to a first down at the Bobcat 42-yard line. An 18-yard run by Michael Scott got the Tigers close, and a five-yard blast by Ted Horstead put Elba on the Opp 18-yard line. Mike Amison hit Buddy Clark with a pass down to the five, but a penalty wiped out the play and put Elba back on the 24-yard line. Amison went back to the airways on the next play, and this time disaster struck as Opp's Aaron Underwood intercepted the pass on the four-yard line. Opp again came out running and drove 96 yards in 13 plays to take the lead for good. Robert Brannon gained 75 yards during the march, but it was Ed Spurlin who notched the score when he dived over from three yards out. The extra point attempt sailed wide, giving Opp a 13-7 lead with 1:27 left in the half.

Elba put together a drive in the closing seconds of the half that reached the Opp 30-yard line, only to run out of time and go in at halftime behind 13-7.

The Tigers got off to a good start in the second half with a 30-yard line, only to run out of time and go in at halftime behind 13-7.

When Michael Scott returned the opening kick 38 yards to midfield, and a pass from Mike Amison to Mike Smith gave Elba a quick first down on the Opp 39-yard line. However, Opp's Aaron Underwood intercepted a pass one play later and returned it to the Elba 41. From there it took the Bobcats only four plays to score, with Tim Jessie getting the touchdown on a 16-yard dash. Jessie also ran in the two-point conversion, upping Opp's lead to 21-7 with 7:20 left in the third quarter.

The Tiger offense covered 33 yards on its next possession and got inside the Elba 40, but fumbled to end the drive. Opp took over on the 42 and this time needed only six plays to reach paydirt, with Robert Brannon scoring the touchdown on an eight-yard run. Dowling again added the p.a.t., to give Opp a 28-7 lead with 4:33 still left in the third stanza.

The two rivals swapped punts on their next possessions, with Elba winding up with the ball on their own 17-yard line. Runs by Mark Henderson and Mike Amison resulted in a first down, and then Michael Scott broke loose on the sidelines on a 53-yard romp all the way to the Opp 14. Scott gained nine yards down to the five, and then notched the touchdown one play later. A two-point attempt failed, leaving Elba trailing 28-13 with 2:50 left in the game. The teams swapped fumbles in the final minutes, with Opp holding on to win 28-13.

GAMECOCKS THUMP SAMSON

By CYNTHIA MADDOX

SAMSON—A last quarter fluke play sealed the outcome of last Friday night's New Brockton-Samson grid bout with the visiting Gamecocks emerging as the 10-6 victor.

But the long-awaited second victory of the season for Brockton was also a costly match with Ronnie Gilley and several other players sustaining major leg injuries. Gilley was carried off the field by an ambulance during the first half with a broken leg.

The hosting Samson Tigers led throughout the game until the final five minutes when an attempted punt ricocheted off the rear of Samson's deep back and New Brockton's Bobby Smith fell on it in the endzone for six points. Smith then added the PAT for the 10-6 win.

The home team took the opening kickoff at the 30 and Jeffrey Danley brought it out to the 44. Danley was called upon again on the 30 and from scrimmage and rambled 14 yards before being brought down by Gilley and Joseph Burrows. The Tigers managed to cross midfield and picked up another first down deep in Gamecock territory on a pass from quarterback Stacy Danley to Kenneth Owens. Their drive toward the goal line was cut short two plays later when Ricky Sipper intercepted a pass by Willie Lee Terry and Gilley to gain first down yardage for New Brockton near midfield. But the Gamecocks could only convert one more first and turned over possession to Samson at the 30.

On first and 10 Danley pitched out to Chris Hornsby for a three yard gain and another two yards on second down. But that was all the visitors would allow their hosts and Owens was forced to punt to Samson at the 30.

Sipper, Burrows, and Danway were called on to move the ball forward, but when a pass to Gilley fell incomplete on fourth and one.

During Samson's next possession, the Gamecocks lost one of their starting workhorses when Gilley went down with a broken leg.

The Gamecocks took over on their own 39 after Samson failed to convert a fourth down situation. On first and 10, quarterback Anthony Maddox kept for two, then handed off to the middle for two failed, but Samson led the way 6-0.

With a streak of luck running their way, the Tigers took their chances with another gamble by trying an onside kick. Owens recovered the ball for Samson at Brockton's 47.

Hornsby picked up nine on first down before Greg Hagan, Danway, and Joe Godwin pulled him down. On second down, a halfback passing attempt to Owens at the 5 was almost intercepted by Burrows. Unable to pick up the first, Samson again faked the punt as the opening seconds of the second quarter ticked off the clock.

A pass from Danley to Ernie drive at their own 26. They managed to move the ball onto possession.

But their luck ran out two plays later when Mike Dunaway picked off a pass at the 30 to give his team a chance at moving the ball. Terry, Gilley, and Burrows were given the calls but could not move against a fired-up Samson defense led by Bobby Bowden and Randy Jones.

Samson refused to allow Samson progressing any farther than the 32 during their turn with the ball.

Again the ball was turned over to New Brockton with Gilley breaking loose on first down for a seven yard play. Sipper added another two yards to the drive with a rushing play off his far end and Kelly Tindol took the honors of picking up a first at Samson's 40 yard line.

Samson's 40 yard line. Terry and Tindol combined for nine yards on the next two plays, but the drive then stalled.

Both teams came out of the dressing rooms after the half skyhigh and ready to play. Neither offense could move against the opposing defense until near the end of third quarter when Brockton started a prolonged 13-play drive at their own 26. They managed to move the ball onto possession.

Before Samson got the handle on a loose ball to save a possible touchdown.

A trailing Brockton team opened fourth quarter by blocking a punt and gaining possession at Samson's 35. Burrows moved the ball to the 29 before being stopped. He then rambled to the 6 for a first and goal. Burrows, Tindol and Sipper were able to inch toward the 5, but more as the drive was halted.

Samson took over possession in their own territory and were plagued with a major distance penalty. Four plays later on fourth and two at the 14 Owens dropped back to punt and his own deep back. As the ball rolled into the endzone, Bobby Smith fell on it for Brockton's six points.

Brockton's record stands at 2-2 as they prepare to host Dozier tomorrow night.

Gamecocks held to regain possession with 1:20 left. During the next four plays they fell on the ball to eat up the clock and hang onto their second win of the season.

Brantley

Dumps Red

Level 14-0

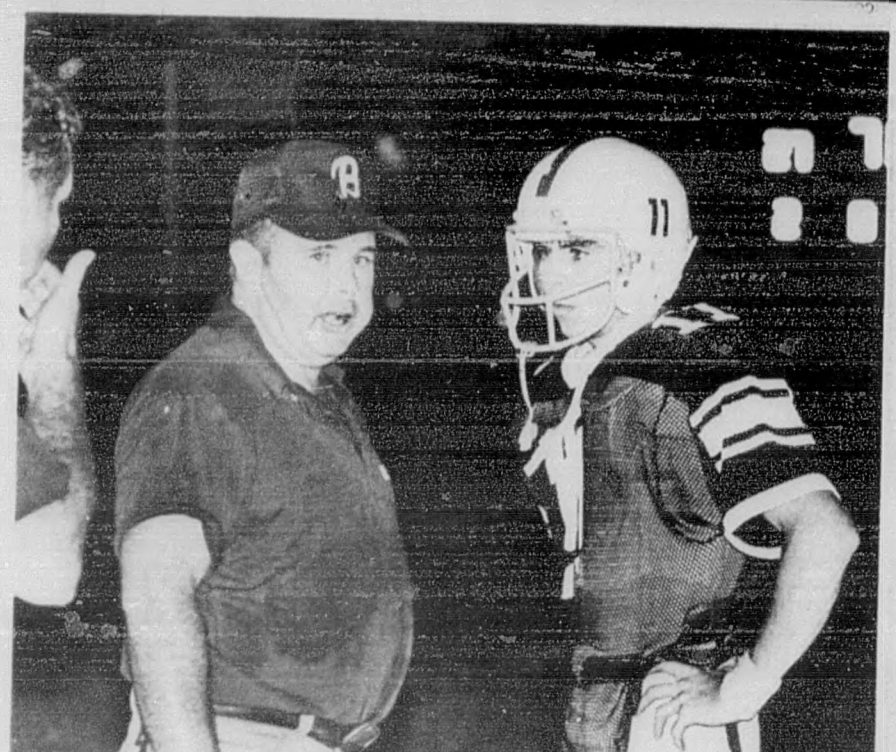

Story and Photos by: BILLY W. WILLIAMSON

The Brantley Bulldogs remained alive in the Area 3 title chase with a solid 14-0 win over the previously undefeated Red Level Tigers.

The win capped Brantley's record to 3-1 (2-1 in Area), while the loss left Red Level with an identical 3-1 state (1-1 in Area).

The two rivals swapped fumbles on their initial possessions, but Brantley began to move midway through the opening half and drove to the Red Level one-yard line. The march covered 42 yards in 12 plays, coming completely on the ground, with Ricky Hall doing most of the work on driving runs. The Dogs came away empty-handed, however, as a fumble killed the threat at the goal-line!

A Tony Chandler aerial to Mark Hill resulted in a big 34-yard gain to the Red Level 15 late in the half, and the Bulldogs got down to the five-yard line, only to run out of time as the half ended with the score still tied at 0-0.

A fumbled snap on a punt attempt put Brantley in business in the third stanza on the Tiger five-yard line, and this time the Dogs pushed it in for a touchdown. Tony Chandler scored on an option, giving the Dogs a 6-0 lead with 7:17 left in the third quarter, a lead the Bulldogs would never relinquish!

Brantley put the win on ice early in the final stanza when defensive back Ricky

Beck picked off a Red Level pass and returned it 43 yards to paydirt. Beck ran in the two-point conversion, putting the Bulldogs on top 14-0 with 9:15 left in the game, and Red Level's dreams of a win had vanished into midair! The Dogs added another score late in the game, only to have it nullified by a clip, but Brantley had the win, 14-0.

Troy State Routs Albany

The Troy State University Trojans got rolling following a shaky start, and completely destroyed the Albany State Rams 49-0, last Saturday night before a crowd of 6500 at Dothan's Rip Hewes Stadium.

Troy State now owns a 1-1 record, and will be at home this Saturday night when they host Nichols State at 7:00. Albany State's record is now 0-3.

Troy received the opening kick, but held the ball for only two plays before losing a fumble on its 10-yard line. The Rams failed to take advantage of the break, however, as Opp's Bobby Fuller recovered a fumble in the endzone to end the threat. The Trojans' initial score came late in the opening stanza when Florida's John Anthony scored on a two-yard plunge. The touchdown was set up by a 47-yard punt return by Carl Smith. Troy needed only two plays to score the next time they got the ball, as J.R. McKinnon hit Kelvin Murdoch on a 38-yard scoring pass. From there on it was all Trojans, as the defense shut down the Albany State attack and the Troy offense literally scored at will. Doug Brown and Fred McKinnon each gained 109 yards to pace the Trojan ground attack, while quarterback J.R. McKinnon completed 9 of 15 passes for 124 yards. Leaders on defense were Steve Stringfellow, Donnie Arnold, Bobby Fuller and Elba's Gary Bradshaw.

The win was dampened by the loss of fullback John Anthony, a workhorse from Florida, who broke his ankle in the first half and will be out for the season.

Head Coach Charlie Bradshaw stated after the game: "I was pleased in spots. We've improved, and I am very pleased to have won. We're still not as consistent as we need to be, but there were some good signs out there. Everything seemed to be clicking a little better and I think it was a tragic thing losing John Anthony - he's a super young man and we'll miss his leadership."

Houston Academy Outscores Kinston

By: GREG BRUNSON

The Kinston Bulldogs journeyed to Dothan last Thursday night to battle the Houston Academy Raiders in a key Area 4 matchup and put up a gallant effort before falling 27-18. The win capped Houston Academy's record to 1-2 (1-0 in Area play), while Kinston's slate dipped to 1-3 (0-1 in Area play).

Houston Academy won the toss and elected to receive, but held the ball for only two plays before Houston Academy's Scotty Weeks recovering the fumble on the Raider 21-yard line. The Bulldogs moved to the 17, only to return the favor by fumbling one play later! The Raiders began to move on their second possession and drove to the Kinston 32-yard line in only four plays, but the hard-hitting Bulldog defense caused another fumble and Chris Weeks recovered to stop the threat. Kinston's Mark Kelley bulled for two yards on first down and then got the call again on second down and responded with a 46-yard ramble to the Houston Academy 30-yard line.

A five-yard gain by Max Mathews on fourth down and four kept the drive alive, while an 18-yard pass play from Mark Kelley to Shane Smith moved the ball to the Raider 6-yard line. The Dogs scored one play later when Darren Smith fired a five-yard touchdown pass to Shane Smith, who made the catch with two defenders hanging on his back! A bad snap felled the extra point attempt, but Kinston was on top 6-0 with 2:13 left in the opening stanza.

The two Class A rivals swapped punts following their next possessions, with Houston Academy winding up with the ball on the Kinston 37 following a short 14-yard punt.

The Raiders moved to the 18 in only two plays and then moved into a 6-0 tie when Scott Laye lofted an 18-yard scoring pass to Guy Hilbert, who broke a tackle at the two and tumbled into the end zone. Eric Phillips added the

PASTOR'S CORNER

REV. LONNIE PLUNKETT
ELBA CHURCH OF GOD

Simplicity of the Gospel

I have a strong desire to set before this nation the simplicity of the gospel of Jesus Christ. I fear we do not always get our point across clearly to the inquiring souls who long to know how to be saved. I want you to know it is not hard to come to God - it is easy. Jesus did the work on Calvary, and it is up to you to accept His efforts for yourself.

A. "All have sinned and come short of the glory of God." - Romans 3:23.

This fact must be realized and accepted before we can see any reason for personal repentance. Regardless of any apparent attainment of high principles or excellent behavior, all come short of the glory of God. Many of us attempt to excuse themselves from the fact of sin by pointing out that they are not as bad as others, but that is not the point. God does not look at the quantity of sin, but at the quality of the heart. If the heart is not right, the sin is not forgiven.

C. "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." - Matthew 11:28.

It takes in every burden, every problem, every guilt, and every sin. Jesus is the only one who can give such an invitation to such a needy world. You may try to get away from your hard-pressed feeling, or you may attempt to lay your burden down by your own efforts, but there will still remain that heavy load. Only Jesus can give you rest.

The blood of Jesus Christ has made it possible for us to have an easy way out. The price has been paid for your ransom, and if you will come to Jesus, the things you are laboring with will vanish, and the heavy load you carry will disappear.

This is God's love for the world. While we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. When we ignore Him, He pleads with us. When we walk away from Him, He calls us back. But if we have no love for Him, we cannot love Him.

You have not been waiting on God - He has been waiting on you!

While we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. When we ignore Him, He pleads with us. When we walk away from Him, He calls us back. But if we have no love for Him, we cannot love Him.

You have not been waiting on God - He has been waiting on you!
